

My most splendid days are spent doing a little of everything I love. Often that means juggling my family, work and hobbies so everything gets done. Ideally this would look like a little calm gardening in the morning, some stitching with friends and cooking wholesome meals for my family in the evening. Sometimes there is frantic lunch box packing, ferrying instruments around town and scrambling to meet class times and deadlines, at the end of those days I can feel a bit loopy. That's when I really enjoy some appliqué or handwork, it soothes my busy brain and I feel like I've reclaimed the day. It's amazing that a little bit of fabric and thread can do that, how splendid!
